MAKE YOUR LIFE EASIER: GET HR DATA ALL IN ONE PLACE

5 ways to streamline your HR practice with data integration

83%

of HR leaders say they're expected to do more.[1]

68%

HR professionals state that reducing costs and increasing efficiency is a top priority.[2]

Administrative tasks can pull HR leaders and business owners away from what really matters — their people and their business. Integrating your company systems brings your data into one place and can save you time, increase efficiency and help reduce data errors. ADP Marketplace gives you the flexibility to choose the integration solution that works best for your company.

Top ways to integrate your HR data

Purchase prebuilt integrated solutions: Explore HR solutions from ADP and third-party partners on ADP Marketplace. Easily try and purchase apps for recruiting and onboarding, earned wage access, time and labor management and more.

Connect your existing solutions to ADP: Purchase a data connector to easily link your third-party HR systems with ADP. Simply search the solution name and "data connector" on ADP Marketplace.

Use application programming interfaces (APIs) to build custom integrations: Provide your developers or IT team with ADP's APIs to build seamless data integration.

No developers? No problem: You can hire our integration services partners* to integrate your data for you.

Automate your existing file uploads: Our ADP Marketplace partner CData* can automate your existing file uploads for quick and accurate data integration with ADP.
