

A New Jersey electronics retailer growing with the times

For 17 years, Electronics Expo has been providing New Jersey shoppers with high-end showrooms where they can experience top-of-the-line audio/visual products for home entertainment spaces. Today, in addition to two retail locations, the company has a thriving online business with more than 186,000 customer reviews and a 99 percent positive customer rating on Amazon.

We've never used any other company

I've been using ADP since 2003, and I'm very happy with their service. We've never used any other company. Other payroll providers are always making offers to get our business, but there's no need to switch. I'm really happy dealing with ADP for a long time. I'm happy with their service.

Payroll is time-consuming. With ADP, it's very easy and fast. If I have an issue, I call them, and they fix it right away. ADP has great customer service. And they are on top of everything.

Before the internet, we used to do the payroll on the ADP software. But when we switched to RUN, we added time and attendance. It just made everything easier.

I don't have to worry

The first time I ran payroll was with a company before this that also used ADP. I was nervous, and ADP helped me a lot. I called customer service so many times. They helped me through the process.

Basically, to me, it's very easy to use ADP. I don't have to worry about anything.
