

Security meets compliance with ADP®

Keeping your data secure and compliant is of paramount importance to your business, and you wouldn't trust just anyone with it. At ADP, data security is central to everything we do and we've designed our products, business structure and infrastructure to help our clients worry less about risk and focus more on running their business. See what some of our clients have to say about their confidence in ADP's security and compliance standards:

“We appreciate the steps ADP has taken to keep our employee data secure. As a non-profit, we are hyper aware of the data breaches happening that are reported in the news. Our security is continuously evolving and evaluated by our auditors. Keeping our employee data safe is just as crucial to our organization as keeping our donor information secure.”

Melissa Rauch, payroll senior consultant, Reformed Church in America

“As a software company that handles personal information across many platforms, I have faith that with ADP's product our data is secure. ADP is constantly improving their platforms and staying up to date with the latest security needs. I love the third-party authentication that they have in place to perform certain functions and know that my employees' personal data is secure.”

Kerri Fama, director of human resources, Ironwood Physicians, PC

“I feel secure with ADP's login and security protocols. If I try to make a change to an employee's personal information, I must get a security code sent to my email or phone to verify I am making the change. The audit history reports are also helpful if there is a question as to who made a change and when it was made.”

Keli Parish, payroll and HR generalist, Daniel Defense, LLC

“There seems to be an ongoing effort to stay on top of current technologies and compliance issues. There's also a willingness to be transparent with the consumer and efforts to maintain data security. Annually, we have a rather large payroll due to bonuses, and I always receive a call from ADP to verify the validity of said payroll, which I appreciate.”

Matt Jameson, controller, Transport Clearings East

“ADP's use of secure websites and security parameters helps guarantee that my company's information is in good hands. Through security management and two-step verifications, data is safe and protected.”

Pia Saks, global payroll manager, Vanderbilt Global Services, LLC

“I feel secure with ADP as a partner because they are always updating and improving. I am constantly seeing updates from ADP on what they are doing to keep up with the changing times.”

Carolyn Magee, payroll specialist, Streamlight, Inc.

“The sign-on, in addition to the email verification to access information and reports, really helps me feel that information is secure. I also appreciate the controls we can set within ADP so only certain people can change and access information.”

Gehlen Exum, office manager, Tempest Technologies
