Make performance reviews a breeze

When it comes to performance reviews, it's time to lose the paper and spreadsheets and find a solution that puts all the tools, data and dashboards right at your fingertips. With ADP Workforce Now® Performance Management, you can streamline your review process, making it easy to keep track of goals and priorities.

Don't just take our word for it. See what our clients have to say:

Creating efficiencies and time savings:

From implementation to our first time using the ADP Workforce Now Performance modules, we have had a wonderful experience. We had a great implementation specialist that helped us set up our reviews how we wanted them. After a slight learning curve, the online reviews were very easy to use.

Previously, we tracked performance reviews in a different system. ADP Workforce Now Performance allows us to create, distribute, track and run reports on the performance reviews which has been a huge time saver for us.

Tracking reviews and going paperless:

Since we no longer have paper forms, we do not have to track down outstanding reviews. We also have the ability to store the review in ADP and recall it at a moment's notice.

The ADP Performance module has helped us streamline and make our year-end process more efficient. Having all the data in one place for both employees and managers to review is essential and provides ease for completing the task.

Erica Connor, AVP. HR Manager, Manasquan Bank

We used to administer paper performance reviews where employees did a self-review then managers did a final review. It was a waste of both paper and time. To have all the reviews available electronically and in the same place and have the ability to do everything in one place is pivotal, especially when we do these at year-end where time is of the essence.

ADP's reporting and performance dashboard allows us to run reports, see the status of reviews and see a high-level glance of review progress. We also have the workflow set up to send email notifications when a review has been submitted, is pending approval, etc.
