

Date: June 23, 2014
From: ADP Global Security Organization
Subject: Fraudulent Emails Appearing to Come From ADP with Subject Line: Benefit Elections

Issue Overview

There have been reports regarding fraudulent emails that appear to be sent from ADP which may have various subject lines including "Please review the attached CBE form". These emails indicate that the user's CBE form needs to be reviewed and includes an attachment.

These emails do not originate from ADP and our analysis has revealed that they do contain an attachment that may be malicious. ADP is addressing this issue diligently with our fraud prevention team and security vendors to identify and contain the source of these emails and will provide updated information as it becomes available.

Message Subject

Benefit Elections

Please review the attached CBE form

Example

See one example of the fraudulent email below, although there may be other variations.

---

How to Report an Incident

Please be on alert for this fraudulent email and follow the instructions below if you receive any new or related suspicious email.

- Do not click on any links or open any attachments within the message.
- Forward the email as an attachment to abuse@adp.com.
- Delete the email.
- If you clicked any link or opened an attachment in the email, immediately contact your IT support team for further action.

Additional Information

For more information about how ADP protects our clients, please visit the ADP Trust Center at www.adp.com/trust which provides the latest security alerts, phishing information, and security resources and best practices. Protecting ADP clients and their data from malicious activity has been, and always will be, a top priority for ADP.