ADP Named as an Awarded Payroll and HR Services Vendor by The Cooperative Purchasing Network (TCPN)

Underscores the growing demand for alternative HR, payroll and benefits transformation services in the Public Sector

What: The Cooperative Purchasing Network (TCPN), is a collaborative procurement organization for use by more than 1,800 public and private schools, colleges, universities, cities, counties, and other government entities throughout the U.S.. The award to ADP® Employer Services makes it easier for public sector organizations to procure HR and Payroll services. These services represent a growing trend away from large-scale ERP (technology) investments toward service-based models that deliver solutions that allow organizations to run more efficiently with greater accountability and enhanced productivity.

Why: Becoming an awarded TCPN vendor will greatly support ADP's business growth in the public sector and offer flexibility and ease of procurement for TCPN members. ADP's track record in the public sector, as well as its comprehensive service breadth, has made it the partner of choice for thousands of government organizations across the United States.

ADP was selected by TCPN as part of a competitive bid process to ensure it met TCPN's needs regarding cost-effectiveness and breadth of services. ADP has agreed to provide discounted pricing for TCPN members for its broad spectrum of HR, benefits administration, payroll, tax and compliance, time and attendance, and expense management solutions.

The key benefit for TCPN member organizations is the ability to select from a list of TCPN pre-bid and pre-awarded vendors, saving hours in procurement and meeting mandated procurement guidelines.

Who: ADP was selected after a thorough selection process based on the company's expertise in providing its breadth of services to more than 585,000 employers worldwide. ADP's robust solutions help satisfy Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB)-mandated requirements and assist with the Federal Government's Circular OMB A-123 compliance. This Circular provides guidance to Federal managers on improving the accountability and effectiveness of Federal programs and operations by establishing, assessing, correcting and reporting on management controls. ADP's solutions also allow internal staff to reduce time spent on administrative tasks so that they can focus on strategic initiatives that matter most to employees and constituents.
